

English First steps

First steps on how to use the forum.

If anything is missing or you have questions let us know.

You can use the site to check on news etc. without registering.

To post something and to download the files you need to be registered. Your data is not forwarded to any third party.

If you have questions, please use the search function first and check if someone else has already asked the same question.

If this is not the case, please make sure you ask the question in the correct section of the forum.

There is no support via private messages.